FROM THE BOSS-Y

Hi everyone.

We finally made it.....The boarding newsletter is now available to anyone interested in what happens in life after school through the eyes of our student boarders.

I started teaching at LAC in 1990. One day I saw these 'creatures' appear from buildings I thought was off limits to the rest of the school. I learnt the buildings were dormitories and the 'creatures' were called 'indoors', or boarders.

I moved across from full time teaching to dormitory mum as well as Head of Boarding in 1992. Being a boarder a LAC is totally about lifelong friendships. I've attended weddings of ex boarders who criticised my comments of ever dreaming they would marry another boarder - yet in the real school of life, opportunities are limitless - especially PDA!!

Today, I wouldn't trade my experiences at LAC for the world.

I am continually amazed at how the Lord impacts on young people's lives. This morning Pastor Daniel shared that one of last year's boarders has requested baptism next month. Glory to God and my wonderful staff colleagues who have been placed within this part of His vineyard for the saving of souls into His kingdom. It's a great life at LAC - Maria Henry/ Director of Boarding

FEATURE- BROOK

"I think Lac is a great place to live because LAC helps to expand your knowledge of Jesus...It is just like being on a camp full time because your always with your friends. The best thing about the dorm life is the weekends- we do heaps of activities all the time and it is nonstop fun. We recently had a production and I was the stage manager, it went really well! God has really blessed me at LAC and I have really gotten to know him better. The people at LAC have really influenced me in my relationship with GOD. I just love all the Deans- ALL OF THEM!! Oh... And I really like chocolate."

MR B SHARP

For more than thirty years I have been privileged to work with young people, and there are two things about them that continue to engender hope and optimism in me. Young people may cause worry and desperation on occasions but when it comes to the crunch they have that wonderful ability to 'step up to the mark' and dazzle us with what they can achieve. Secondly, they have the ability to enjoy the moment and revel in success.

On Tuesday night I attended the opening performance of the college production 'Runaway', and once again my belief in young people was rewarded. The talent and enthusiasm on display left me so proud of all who were involved. Seeing so many young people take their places, enjoy what they were doing and put in polished performances was so rewarding and reminded me again why I am a teacher. To Miss Morton and the whole 'Runaway' team, huge congratulations and thanks to all of you.
